19th International Society for Research on Aggression (ISRA) World Conference University of Connecticut, Storrs ❖ July 27-31, 2010

Founded in 1972, ISRA is dedicated to the interdisciplinary study of the causes and consequences of aggressive behavior. ISRA members study all forms of violence: child abuse, domestic violence, murder, terrorism, sexual violence and civil wars. The Society's principle mission is to show that aggression and violence, as well as alternative ways to resolve conflicts, can be successfully studied using scientific methods. Their exciting meeting allows scholars from various disciplines to share their research and find novel areas of synergy and convergence.

THIS YEAR'S KEYNOTE & PLENARY SPEAKERS: Deborah Richardson (ISRA President; Professor, Augusta State University): "Everyday Aggression Research." Richard E. Tremblay (JP Scott Award Address; Professor, University of Montreal): "Developmental Origins of Aggression, Epigenetics & Prevention." Donald Pfaff (Plenary Speaker; Professor, The Rockefeller University): "Genomic Mechanisms Bearing on Aggressive Behaviors: Laboratory Analyses & Human Implications." Martha Crenshaw (Plenary Speaker; Senior Fellow, Center for International Security & Cooperation, Stanford University): "Can Threats Deter Nuclear Terrorism?" Miles Hewstone (Plenary Speaker; Professor, Oxford University): "Intergroup Contact & the Reduction of Intergroup Conflict: A Reply to Critics."

The Library of Social Science's book exhibit will be a major attraction of the ISRA conference. At the center of the meeting space in the UConn Student Union's Ballroom 331—near registration, coffee breaks and keynote presentations—our exhibit will offer participants the opportunity to select from a comprehensive collection of the latest and most significant books and journals in the field. This is the best opportunity of the year to promote your books on violence of all types—from the perspectives of psychology, neuroscience, anthropology, psychiatry, sociology and criminology.

Our professional exhibit managers will be on-site from the beginning of the conference to its conclusion. We actively promote your books by discussing them with conferees, distributing promotional material, selling books on-site using publisher-supplied order forms and urging attendees to consider titles for course adoption and library acquisition.

Please fill in and fax your reservation now to hold a place for your press.
