Seventh National Conference of the Historical Society:

“Historical Inquiry in the New Century”

George Washington University, Washington, DC, June 3-5, 2010

The Historical Society seeks to revitalize the study and teaching of history by reorienting the profession toward an accessible, integrated field—free from fragmentation and over-specialization. The Society’s National Conference—held every other year—provides a forum where economic, political, and social historians exchange ideas, fostering critical engagement and dialogue while promoting a scholarly history accessible to the public. This year’s conference will explore current debates in historiography: What are historians’ “big questions”? How has the writing of history changed? What are the goals for the history we write? Attendees will discuss different approaches to the past, promote non-European histories, and present their latest findings in military, religious, world and intellectual history.

PANELS & PAPERS AT THE 2010 CONFERENCE INCLUDE: Rethinking the Cold War at Home ❖ Historical Thinking at the K-12 Level in the 21st Century ❖ Religious Faith, Citizenship & National Identity ❖ The Histories of African Americans’ Anticolonialism ❖ Thinking Locally While Trying to Learn the World ❖ Holy Hours for Khrushchev: Prayer as a Form of Anti-Communist Protest ❖ The Faith of Our Fathers: Religion & the Meanings of Liberty in the US ❖ Race & Labor in the Contemporary South ❖ The Role of History in Forecasting the Future ❖ Religion & Politics in Interwar Britain ❖ History, Pseudo-History & Popular Culture ❖ Comparative Ways of War ❖ Lee’s Lieutenants: The American South in Global Context ❖ Pragmatism & American Higher Education ❖ Race-Based Slavery & Race-Based Citizenship ❖ World History & the Emergence of New Meta-Narratives ❖ Restoring History from Distortion ❖ Jefferson & the End of the American Enlightenment ❖ In Search of the Mexican Immigrant ❖ Academic Integrity & the New Media ❖ Dueling after Il Duce: Postwar Conflicts of Honor in Italy ❖ What Can Be Learned from the Diary of a 17th-Century Merchant? ❖ Black Political Thought in the Age of the New Negro ❖ The Bible is the Soul of Western Civilization ❖ Writing about the Past To Understand the Present ❖ Stimulating Communities via Their Histories ❖ Futuring as Applied History ❖ Some Thoughts on Violence & Anti-Immigrantism ❖ Memories of Terror as Lives Experience

LIBRARY OF SOCIAL SCIENCE’s book exhibit once again will be a central component of the Historical Society conference. Located at the heart of the meeting space—near registration and coffee breaks—our exhibit will offer participants the opportunity to select from a comprehensive collection of the latest and most significant books and journals in the fields of history and historiography.

This is the best meeting of the year to reach an enthusiastic, influential group of scholars—prodigious readers and book buyers—working to bring historical scholarship into public debates and education.

Our professional exhibit managers will be on-site from the beginning of the conference to its conclusion. We actively promote your books by discussing them with conferees, distributing promotional material, selling books on-site using publisher-supplied order forms, and urging attendees to consider titles for course adoption and library acquisition.

Please fill in and fax your reservation now to hold a place for your press.
