28th Annual Conference of the Society for the Exploration of Psychotherapy Integration (SEPI): “Change Process Research: Implications for Integrative Practice” ★ Evanston, IL ★ May 18-20, 2012

SEPI is an interdisciplinary, international organization aimed at integrating diverse theoretical perspectives on psychotherapy. The Society provides a community for clinicians, researchers and theorists who explore the limitations of a single-school perspective and a forum for learning alternative ways of working with difficult clinical issues. Change process research provides insights into effective evidenced-based practice, showing not just if therapy works, but how it works. SEPI's 2012 conference will look at integrating these insights into psychotherapy practice, and how practitioners' findings can inform research.

This is the best opportunity of the year to promote your titles on all schools of psychotherapy theory and practice; cognitive, emotional, biological and behavioral factors affecting psychological change; relationships and trauma.

Typical SEPI panels & papers include: Emotion-Focused Therapy ★ Time-Limited Dynamic Psychotherapy ★ Feedback & Problem-Solving Tools for Bridging the Science-Practice Gap ★ Genes, the Brain & Psychotherapy ★ Transforming Self, Transforming World: Implications & Applications for the Unified Psychotherapy Project ★ Tailoring Psychotherapy to the Individual Patient ★ The Role of Empathy in Facilitating Inter- & Intra-Personal Change in Psychotherapy ★ Is Research Relevant to Clinical Work & Psychotherapy Integration? ★ Implications of Twelve-Step Programs for Psychotherapy ★ Therapist Influence on Depressed Clients' Therapeutic Experience & Outcome ★ Psychodynamic Psychotherapy Process Research ★ When Is Transference Work Useful? ★ The Legend of Trust ★ Revisiting Sex Differences in Preferences for an Ideal Psychotherapist ★ Integrating Other Approaches into Experiential Emotion-Focused Approaches to Psychotherapy ★ Psychotherapy & Psychopharmacology: An Integrative Approach ★ Cognitive Behavioral & Integrative Treatment of Abused Children ★ What Constitutes “Evidence” in Evidence-Based Practice? ★ Integrative Therapy with Children & Adolescents: Then & Now ★ Psychoanalysis & CBT: Compatibilities in Practice ★ Using Case Studies to Develop Theory ★ Approaches to Psychotherapy Integration in Treating Complex PTSD ★ Multimodal Psychotherapy for Immigrant Survivors of Torture & Trauma ★ Psychotherapy Integration & Psychotherapy Research: Consilience & Cross-Fertilization ★ Neuroimaging & Mechanisms of Action in Psychotherapy ★ Changes in Brain Function Following Cognitive Therapy & Social Skills Training: Toward Understanding Mechanisms ★ The Importance of Meta-Analysis for Closing the Science-Practice Gap ★ Gender Differences in the Role Played by the Therapeutic Relationship ★ A Comparison of Emotional & Cognitive Change Mechanisms for Shame ★ Defense, Schema Compensation & Experiential Avoidance ★ Put Your Fears on Your PDA: Self-Monitoring Using New Technologies ★ Losing Myself in a Crowded Room: Facebook & Social Anxiety ★ Racial Differences in Psychotherapy Utilization in the Community Mental Health System ★ Do Anger Management Treatments Help Angry Adults?

Our exhibit offers attendees a unique opportunity to buy significant titles from the major publishers on all clinical and theoretical aspects of psychotherapy and psychoanalysis. Our professional exhibit managers actively promote your titles by distributing flyers and catalogues, discussing books with conferees, selling titles on-site using publisher-supplied order forms and urging instructors to consider titles for course adoption and library acquisition. Attendees visit our exhibits repeatedly over the course of a meeting.
